Site visit to learn more about the good practice from Lombardy to be implemented in Andalusia

An Italian good practice implemented in Spain under CHRODIS PLUS

The Italian Joint Action Chrodis good practice “Lombardy Workplace Health Promotion Network” is a public-private partnership that promotes healthy lifestyles through different actions and information that target healthy eating, smoking cessation, increased physical activity, alcohol reduction and safe walking/biking to work.

Some elements of the Lombardy Workplace Health Promotion Network are being implemented by the Andalusian Regional Ministry of Health in Spain within the framework of the CHRODIS PLUS Joint Action.

The purpose of this study visit was to strengthen cooperation by all of the stakeholders included in the implementation process. This site visit was held on 22-23 May in Milan, Italy. Representatives from the Andalusian Ministry of Health visited the regional headquarters of the Lombardy Health Department, the developer of the Lombardy practice. The agenda included two visits to actual sites that apply this good practice. This was very useful in order to refine and complement the methodology with the practicalities described by actual staff and users.

Full agenda of the meeting is here.

Short description of the Italian practice can be found here.

The Andalusian Pre-implementation Report can be found here.

Site visit to explore details of the JOGG good practice

Selected elements of a Dutch good practice to be implemented in Iceland under CHRODIS PLUS

The Dutch JA-CHRODIS good practice “JOGG” addresses children and adolescent obesity and encourages all people in a town or neighbourhood to make healthy food and physical activity an easy and attractive lifestyle option for young people. The description of the model project is available here.

Selected elements of JOGG will be adapted and implemented within the Health Promoting Community Programme (HPC) in Iceland by the Directorate of Health. HPC is an umbrella for comprehensive health promotion work in municipalities, including Pre-, Compulsory- and Upper secondary schools. HPC's main aim is to support communities/ schools to create supportive environments that promote healthy lifestyle, health and well-being for all. Iceland will adapt selected elements concerning the structure of the JOGG program e.g. supporting material for HPC coordinators, expert support, evaluation and reporting. The main aim of the HPC will continue to be well-being for all.

On 13-14 August, a CHRODIS PLUS site visit was organised in Helsinki. This event occurred under the auspices of the JOGG implementation project of our Joint Action. As the organisers claim, this event “improved shared understanding of the JOGG approach”. At this stage of the project, the event aimed to exchange good examples obtained from the local implementation, along with lessons learnt in JOGG-cities, as well as to map the stakeholders at both the national and local levels.

The key objectives of the JOGG programme:

- support the healthy growing up of children so they would not face obesity in adulthood
- reduce the differences in obesity prevalence among population groups
- ensure that fewer adults keep gaining weight during adulthood
- provide all possible support to persons at high risk for obesity related morbidities

Policy dialogues development

17 policy dialogues are organised under the CHRODIS PLUS

A policy dialogue is an essential component of the policy and decision-making process, where it is intended to contribute to informing, developing or implementing a policy change following a round of evidence-based discussions, workshops, and consultations on a particular subject.

Two CHRODIS PLUS policy dialogues have been already completed, and their focuses were the following:

Greece (February 2018)

- implement relevant policies and practices to address integrated care for the elderly
- focus the adoption of this integrated care at the Primary Care of the national Health and Social Care System

Ireland (May 2018)

- practice, explore and document some of the opportunities and challenges in tackling inequalities within national tobacco control policies and programmes
- acquire knowledge on how inequality dimensions can be built into policy

Videos with Governing Board members are available online

During the Governing Board meeting in Ulm in June, we prepared short interview videos with two special members of this board:

- Lina JARUŠEVIČIENĖ, Vice-Minister of Health, Lithuania
- Yevgeniy GORYAKIN, Health policy analyst, OECD
